Equipto Introduces New Spill Containment System- UPDATE

A few weeks ago you received this email from Equipto introducing a new option for its V-Grip Shelving and Drawer System. We got such a great response that we decided to send additional information about available sizes. The attached specification sheet gives a description of the various sizes and part numbers.

Utilizing our wire shelving and our drip containment system, you can now have shelving fully capable of containing the occasional drip or spill from any fluid you need to store. At the same time, get the benefit from multiple levels to increase your storage capacity - no longer do you have to keep all of your fluid containers and drums on the floor.

In the military, the system is known as POL Containment Shelving.

Order the complete shelving unit, or add the drip containment trays to your existing wire V-Grip shelving.

If you have any questions, please contact your local District Sales Manager or call our customer service team at (800) 323-0801.

Equipto Introduces New Spill Containment System

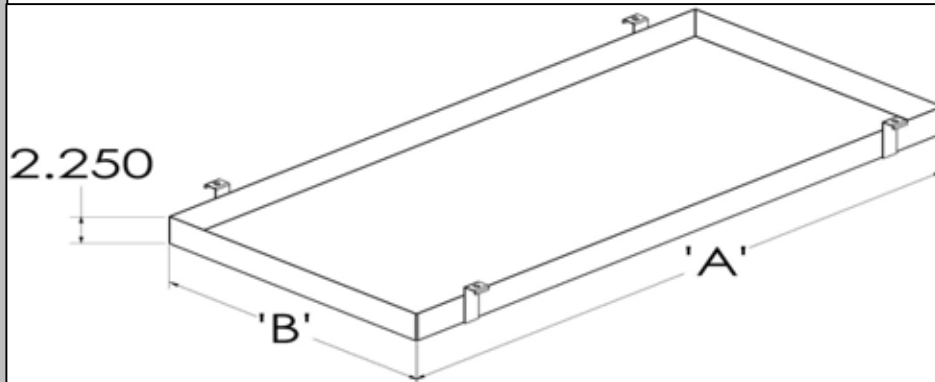

Equipto is pleased to introduce a new option for its V-Grip Shelving and Drawer System.

Utilizing our wire shelving and our drip containment system, you can now have shelving fully capable of containing the occasional drip or spill from any fluid you need to store. At the same time, get the benefit from multiple levels to increase your storage capacity - no longer do you have to keep all of your fluid containers and drums on the floor. It is available for 4 of our most popular shelf sizes.

In the military, the system is known as POL Containment Shelving.

Order the complete VG wire shelving unit with the trays, or add the spill containment trays (see part # below) to your existing wire V-Grip shelving. Available in mirror silver or any of our other colors.

If you have any questions, please contact your local District Sales Manager or call our customer service team at (800) 323-0801.
